A Spanish class

Malaga, on Spain's sunny southern coast, is a totally 'Spanish' city, not a 'package tourism' destination. Malaga is also a wonderful base from which to explore Andalucia, a fascinating part of Spain, full of Moorish influences, famous for its relaxed, easy-going way of life and friendly locals. The climate is sunny throughout most of the year, with cooling sea breezes during the warm summer months.

Our two schools are situated in the quiet residential suburbs of Pedregalejo and Cerrado de Calderón, just a short bus ride from Malaga city centre.

a) Malaga Option 1: (Pedregalejo)

Our school in Pedregalejo is situated in a beautiful Mediterranean villa, just 200 metres from the long sandy beach. The school has 25 classrooms, an Internet café and rooftop cafeteria. This is an excellent choice of school if you wish to combine a quality language course with a beach holiday. The school organises full-day excursions every weekend to Seville, Granada or Cordoba, plus 3-day trips to Morocco. In addition, there is a 'welcome party' every week, 'tapas tours' with the teachers, regular hiking trips into the mountains around Malaga, volleyball tournaments on the beach and Spanish cookery lessons.

PALMA DE MALLORCA

Palma de Mallorca, the charming capital of Mallorca, is far more 'Spanish' than the typical resorts on the island. The yachts moored in the chic marina, together with the stylish restaurants and shops of the new part of the city, give Palma a charm and class of its own.

Our school, ideally located in a beautiful square, in the centre of Palma, has 17 air-conditioned classrooms, an Internet café and common room.
