

Vejer de la Frontera

School building

School patio

Enclosed by eleventh-century walls, Vejer (pop. 10,000) is an incredibly beautiful, perfectly preserved Andalusian hill town, with a maze of whitewashed houses lining the narrow, zig-zagging cobbled streets.

The town is completely unspoilt by tourism, as are the magnificent nearby beaches and surrounding countryside. Come to Vejer prepared to fall in love with the town and the outstanding beauty of the area.

Our school, located in an historic building, has 8 classrooms, Internet café, library, two interior patios, garden with orange trees and jasmine, as well as a roof-top terrace with amazing views! Excursions are offered to Seville, Cordoba, Ronda, Cadiz and Morocco. Students may also practise horse-riding, scuba-diving, snorkelling, hiking, paragliding and windsurfing.
